

development of public policy recommendations to maintain and improve the well-being of the aging. Mr. President, this is an important and full agenda and I applaud all who are participating in this timely Conference.

Senior citizens today comprise more than 12 percent of the country's population and by the year 2000, that number is expected to surpass 16 percent. Maryland seniors comprise 15.6 percent of the State's population, a figure expected to increase to just over 16.2 percent by the year 2000. This demographic transformation poses significant challenges and opportunities and the White House Conference on Aging provides an excellent framework through which the participants may address these issues.

The considerable participation and interest in the White House Conference on Aging clearly illustrates what I have always believed and experienced—older Americans want to contribute. They want to work, to volunteer, and to participate in improving their communities and their Nation. It is critical, in my view, that we recognize and utilize the valuable insight, experience and wisdom that senior citizens bring to all aspects of life.

Mr. President, I have always believed strongly in the potential of this significant and growing population to contribute to the development and implementation of policies that affect all Americans and I expect that the coming days will confirm my belief. I want to again commend all of the delegates from across the country and wish them well as they participate in the fourth White House Conference on Aging.●
